AFTER YELLING THEMSELVES HOARSE, this crowd meets a tense moment near the end of the game with mixed reactions.

A PLACE TO EAT and a place to rest aching feet... the cafeteria. At the P.T.A. Fall Festival, this refuge for relief was welcomed by parents, teachers, and pupils.

At many school and social activities we see people we know. We hear music that's sweet 'n solid or rock 'n roll. The atmosphere of fun and fellowship surrounding us gives us an opportunity to enjoy our school life.

Our parents and teachers enjoy our school life, too. They go to our games, and this year they had a funfest called the Fall Festival. There were games, prizes and everything imaginable for adults and students, too. We enjoy talking about all these activities before and after school because that's part of our school life as we live and learn.

IT LOOKS LIKE it's much more fun to stick around school and talk after the last bell rings. These pupils just can't seem to tear themselves away!

We Have Many New and

As we live and learn, we also grow at school. We come in as freshmen, not knowing what to expect. After awhile, things start to make sense. We begin to make friends as we participate in activities designed especially for us. We learn of future college days, and we plan for them the right way. On Prom night and on our Senior Trip, we love behaving as adults. Right up to the time of graduation when we march to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" with grace and dignity, our school contributes to our growth as individuals.

WITH SOCKS AND SWING, these big 'n little sisters are all set to have a ball at the Sock Dance. This is always a memorable event for many freshies, for it is at this dance that they learn the complicated art of jitterbugging.

THE NIGHT OF APRIL 26th was Prom Night. It was a night of rushing to and from cocktail parties before going to the Crystal Ballroom at Hotel Gary. Sipping punch and eating hors d' oeuvres are Bob Scott, Gail Craig, Bill Brooks, Jeanne Mahaney, Howard Fisher, Irma Smoot, Gerrie Coican, and George Marks.

Thrilling Experiences

REQUIREMENTS, EXPENSES, courses, recreations . . . Mr. James Pike, Wabash College representative, talks about many things on College Day to Don Hannah, Bill Konzelman, Howard Fisher, and Jay Moore.

"RAIN, RAIN, GO AWAY" was the wish of the ninety-three seniors who went on the annual Washington trip in October. The weather was wet, but it didn't dampen their spirits.

We Have Opportunities to Work Alone

ALL ALONE after an eight hour school day, Joyce Zaviski sits quietly at home and tries to master her school work.

ALONE TOGETHER, Alan Corns and Sue McHargue find a quiet spot near the south entrance to have a little fête-à-fête.

and Together

FIVE MINUTES BETWEEN CLASSES is barely enough time for pupils to make their way through the crowded halls and reach their destinations.

There are over 1,400 high school students, and we are all different, but each of us plays a vital role in this school of ours.

Many things of value contribute to our world and we enjoy being able to live with ourselves or together. We learn to be independent, but most of all we learn to get along with each other. We learn to study alone, to converse with a special friend, or to mingle with fellow students in our crowded halls. The things we learn at school, by ourselves or with others, give us a better chance to prepare for the life we will lead in the future.

ALGEBRA IV STUDENTS watch instructor, Mrs. Doris Boose, as she writes an equation on the blackboard. She is answering a pupil's question on a homework problem.

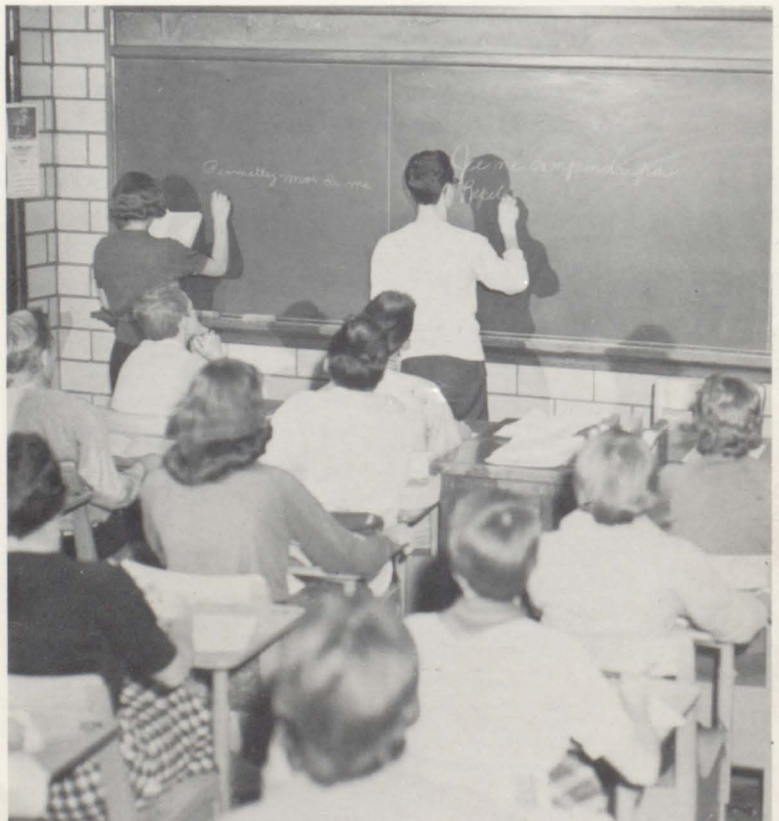

Elective subjects are a wonderful part of the school curriculum. We enjoy being able to select subjects as we choose.

When we know that a subject is not required, but we may take it if we wish, it gives us a feeling of freedom.

We learn how to work an especially difficult math problem, we learn how to converse in a foreign language, or we learn how to drive carefully and safely.

We learn things adults don't normally expect us to know, and we don't learn them because we have to. We know they will help us to live well in the future.

THIS FRENCH CLASS intently watches two classmates as they practice writing in French. They know that writing a language is just as important as speaking it.

Special Interests

MR. LAWRENCE MARTIN, teacher of driver education, and JoEtta Pavletich, are all set to go, but they patiently wait for two back-seat drivers, Nada Novak and Kiki Christoff.

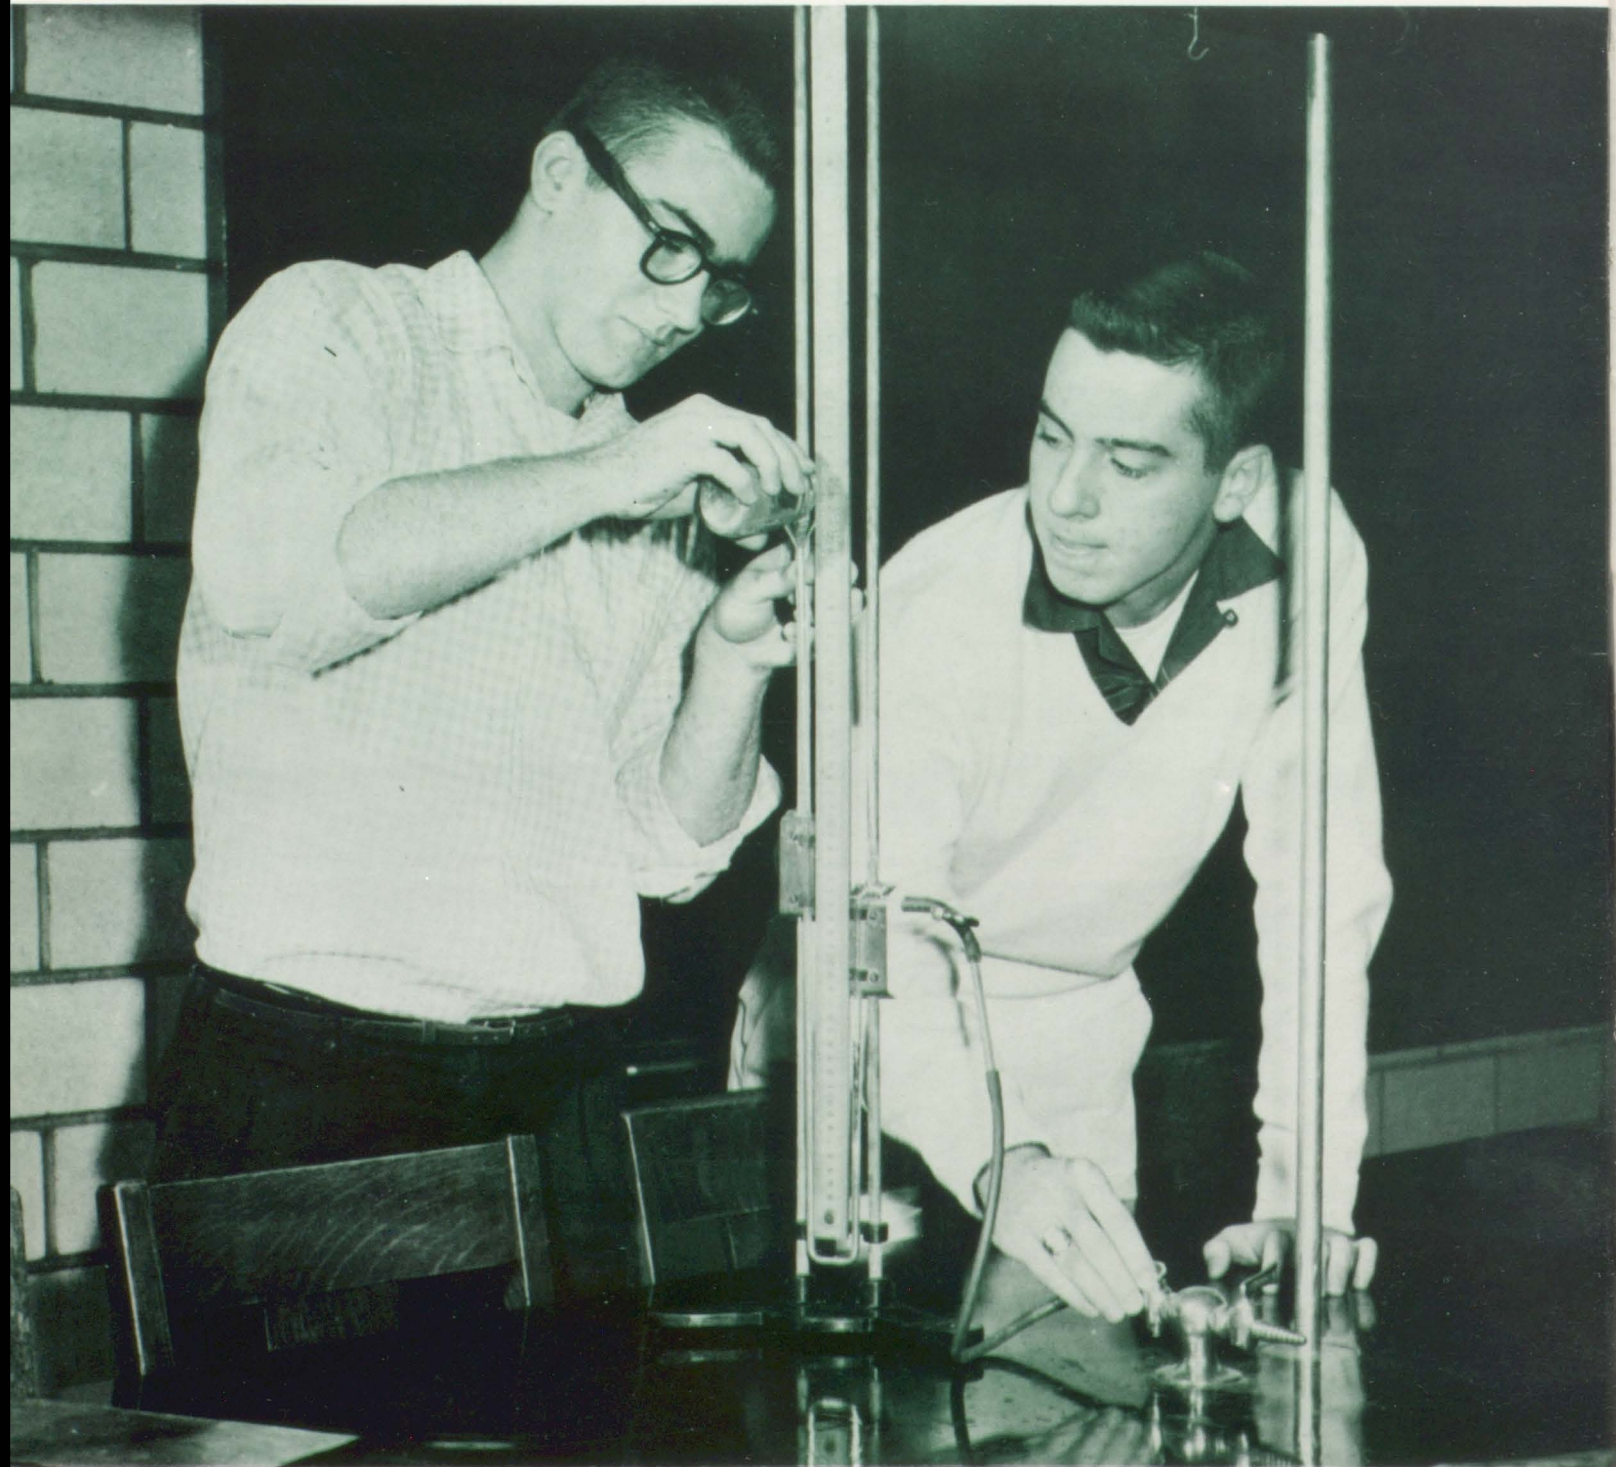

TURNING OVER facts and figures in their minds, these pupils in study hall diligently pour over homework assignments.

We Have So Much to Learn in Our

AFTER SETTING UP the apparatus correctly, Mike Hrinda and Bernard Lavery attempt to test Boyle's law that pressure times volume is constant.

Courses at School

School provides us with so much to do —listening, watching, reading, writing, thinking, studying, — especially in academic subjects! We perform scientific experiments in our laboratories, and we examine theories carefully. We make maps and charts to help us understand better the world we live in. We write term papers, autobiographies, compositions, and reports and we also read books, plays and short stories.

Although many of our subjects are required for graduation, we take pride in the wide variety and scope they offer. Our school work will be a stepping stone to adult life.

IN ORDER TO visualize a certain situation in a social studies class, Ron Nestor points to a spot on the globe for the rest of the class.

A TYPICAL ENGLISH classroom group is ready for a lively discussion. Eager pupils show by a raise of hands that they have something to say.

We Have Many Chances

TRACING, MODELING and lacing are just part of the work that goes into the construction of leather purses. John Wirtes, George Odishoo, Bernie Bakaitis, Ken Schwartz and Dennis Sorba find this out as they work in craft shop.

ED McDERMOTT stands before a printing press in print shop and feeds it blank cards. After the cards are printed they will be distributed to the faculty and the student body for their use.

to Work Creatively

A PINCH OF THIS and a dash of that and the concoction will be finished. Linda Wheat, Mary Starceвич, and Melanie Rzepka prepare for future duties in cookery.

WITH PALETTE AND BRUSH in hand, and knowledge of blending and composition in mind, John Popoff paints a scene on canvas.

There are many vocational classes for us. We seek to master the primary skills and to utilize the creative interests we develop.

We begin by observing the teacher as he demonstrates and explains. Then we try it ourselves. At first we make mistakes, but soon we improve, which makes us a little more careful the next time.

Gradually we find our hands mastering the techniques of true craftsmanship. We take pride in our work and receive satisfaction in visible achievement. We learn by doing, and by doing, we are brightening our lives with the prospect of a better and happier future.

Activities

There are opportunities for everyone in our school. We can lead, as many of us do, or we can follow. We can plan ahead to become a member of the local school board, or an ambassador. We can participate in elections similar to the one that re-elected Dwight D. Eisenhower the thirty-fourth president. We can attend club meetings that discuss everything from adolescents to adults. We can give service in every field from politics to electronics. Our club activities help us to live better and to learn well for the future.

The Student Council organization is the governing body of our school. The Council provides students with an opportunity to help run the school, to voice opinions, criticisms, and suggestions, and to define educational, vocational, and social goals.

Meetings are held every Wednesday after school in Room 208. The activities of the current school year began with preparations for Homecoming festivities and Freshman Orientation Week. These projects were most successful and were followed by the thirtieth annual Inauguration Day for Council officers and all class officers. The Inaugural Ball in December was the high light of the winter social season.

The Council sponsored a Clean-Up Campaign, the decoration of halls and offices, food baskets for needy families, the S.O.S. Humanity Drive, and Student Administration Day.

The events of the year were brought to a close by Activity Day, a Council project which honors all students who have contributed exceptional scholastic, athletic, and social services to the school.

Jackie Mattingly served as president of the Council. The other officers were Marilyn Rose, vice president; Janet Myers, secretary; and Keith Pearman, treasurer.

The sponsor of Student Council is Mr. William Vorwald,

Where There's A Girl There's A Way

FACULTY MEMBERS Miss Eloise Brooner and Miss Francis Kraft are the gracious servers at the Mother and Daughter Tea.

"THE BELLES", a familiar group at Girls' Club activities, entertain at the Senior Reception. The singers are Donna Jansen, Jeanne Mahaney, Judy Smith, Mary Jane Murray, Miriam Melvin, Donna Maly, Gerrie Coican, and Joni Guist.

NADINE TOLPA and her date Sam Schiralli stand on the gym balcony, looking down on the dancing couples at the colorfully decorated Turnabout Dance.

Girls who wish to become active in school affairs, to promote school spirit, and to develop lasting friendships find all their answers in becoming members of Girls' Club.

All girls in high school are members of the club and the Council is composed of an elected representative from each homeroom. The Council meets every Wednesday after school in Room 107.

Freshman Week and the Birthday Potluck began the year's activities. During the Christmas season the club sponsored the annual corsage sale and stag dance. During the holidays, members of the club visited the Old People's Home and provided entertainment and gifts.

The Senior Reception, the Sing, the Ma Pa and Me Banquet and the Spring Turnabout Dance were the second semester social activities.

The Girls' Club Council representatives attended the Suburban Girls' Club Conference and the Lake County Conference. The four mass meetings sponsored by the Council provided all high school girls with participation in the activities of the club. The Council has maintained attractive calendars in the principal's office as a part of their service projects. They also provide monthly teas for the faculty.

The Girls' Club Council was served by Carole Shearer as president; Edith Green, junior vice president; Irma Smoot, secretary; and Leanne Phillips, treasurer. Under-classmen officers were Carol Golbesky, sophomore vice president and Jo Ann McCalister, freshman vice president. The sponsor of the club is Miss Shirley Bryan.

A Teacher's Work is Never Done

EXAMINING a stuffed alligator with a magnifying glass are Joni Guist, T.E.C. pupil; Judy Shepherd, and Gregory Bastian, pupils in the kindergarten department.

A club organized to provide opportunities for finding out what it takes to be a good teacher is known as Future Teachers of America. Club members often enrol in T.E.C. and learn first hand the role of the teacher in the school.

Activities this year included an FTA Roundup at which time girls from many area schools met and compared problems. Our group helped plan activities for National Education Week, toured various Chicago and Indiana college campuses, attended meetings of the state organization, and helped plan for College Day.

Helene Zury was president and Carol Shearer was vice president. The secretary was Ruthann Falatic and Peggy Mahorney was treasurer. The junior vice president was Joyce Zaviski and Martha Roknich served as freshman vice president.

The sponsors of this organization are Dr. Marie Edwards, Miss Gerrie Eckert and Miss Violet Street.

The boys and girls enrolled in the business club are preparing for future careers in business and industry. To become a member it is necessary to be enrolled in a business course of typing, shorthand or bookkeeping.

Learning the fundamentals of buying and selling, advertising, collecting and promoting is the goal of the club. The members provide and promote services for the administration and faculty. They helped with the United Fund, Red Cross, and T B Association drives, as well as volunteering their help to other community agencies. They participated in Career Day, sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Gary.

Money making projects included the sale of Christmas cards and a stag dance. Social activities provided a Christmas party.

The officers of FBLA were John Mayer, president, assisted by Diane Yates, vice president. John Dimos was treasurer, Carol Kobza, corresponding secretary and the two recording secretaries were Judy Olson and Rosalie Pampalone.

The club was sponsored by Mrs. Helen Grecco.

Prospective nurses who will further their nursing careers in the medical field enroll in the club known as White Caps.

Their in-service training at school includes the making of gifts for children and adults confined in the local hospitals. Visiting shut-ins, bedside students, and hospital patients take up some of the girls' after-school time. Each year they also go Christmas carolling.

Social activities included a formal initiation, a mother-daughter May tea and a year-end potluck.

The officers of White Caps were Carolyn Dawson, president, and Charlene Uskert, vice president. The secretary was Linda Richiger, and the treasurer was Valerie Goluch.

The sponsors of the club are Miss Lois Bjelland, R.N., Mrs. Fern Kirtland, and Miss Shirley Crumbaugh.

Service With a Smile

Services performed in the senior library by Auxilia Club members help maintain a comfortable and attractive library for students and faculty.

Sales of candy the year round provide sufficient funds for the purchase of needed additions to the reading room. This year's purchases included bronze busts of Abraham Lincoln and Albert Sweitzer. Book Week activities and bulletin board displays were also promoted.

Social activities were varied and included a Halloween party, a potluck, a Christmas party, initiation, and a formal May tea for mothers of members.

Sharon Fulton was president, Veronica Pillman, secretary and Yvonne Dailey, treasurer. Rose Scelsi was in charge of publicity. The sponsor is Miss Frances Kraft.

To stimulate and further an interest in biology, many scientifically minded students enroll in the Biology Club. Their interest in our school grounds was furthered by the purchase of $300 worth of shrubs to help beautify our campus.

Audubon Society programs were promoted and delegates were sent to the Junior Academy of Science meetings. The sales of note-paper and candy helped raise funds for the club to further its interests in science. Students who earned sufficient points for service were awarded biology pins on Activity Day.

The officers were president, Joan Plum; vice president, Charlotte Schulties; treasurer and assistant, Ida Baseggio and Rita Modrowski. Carolyn Kravetz was in charge of publicity and Betty Kupka served as social chairman.

The club is sponsored by Miss Lola Lemon.

Progress is Our Most Important Product

Klub Kem chemists are the scientists whose high school experiments may lead to future scientific discoveries. The members of the club stimulate their interest in chemistry by learning new formulas for cold cream and perfumes. They operate the laboratory efficiently and keep bottles and chemical compounds well labeled.

Field trips taken, demonstrations given, and news reports on scientific improvements were part of the year's work. Socially, the club members enjoyed a Christmas party and a spring picnic.

The present chemists were led by Tom Magdich, Bill Geisen, Donna Buller and Verne Trinoskey.

The club is sponsored by Mrs. Helen Mackenzie.

An interest in the cultures of Rome and Greece provides a worthwhile goal for members of the Latin club. They try to do everything the Roman way, including a Saturnalia at Christmas time.

The club is affiliated with the American Classical League and they are participating members in the city wide Latin Conference. Each spring members also help acquaint future high school students with the values of Latin.

Sales and dances provide money for the purchase of Roman costumes and fees for contest entries. The most coveted Latin award is given to an outstanding member on Activity Day.

In keeping with Roman tradition the officers were Consul Supremus Carol Tokosh, Consul Secundus Merri Gannon, Quaestor Rita Wilson, Scriba Judy Perrotta, Aedile Pat Gruenberg and Princeps Cibi Artie Milteer and Sharon Mills.

The club is sponsored by Miss Agnes McLean.

Asking a question in French and getting an answer in Spanish might seem unusual, but not to members of the Sprech Club. They further their interests in the romance languages by developing conversational skills.

The club is primarily social and evening meetings are held at homes of the members. Movies and imaginative guided tours to places in France, Spain, and Mexico were sources of entertainment.

The officers who planned the activities for this year were George Bone, president and Joyce Gritton, vice president. Social co-chairmen were Carole Shearer and Pat Coady, and Dick Clark program chairman. The secretary was Janet Huettner and the treasurer was Carol Golbesky.

An organization devoted to the writing of original stories and poems is known as Inkpot. Members are selected because they possess latent writing abilities and enjoy furthering their interests in literature. Meetings held at the homes of members are planned for the purpose of discussing current books, T.V. and stage plays.

The main activities this year were the annual Christmas party and the spring banquet in honor of the graduating seniors.

This year's officers were Rochelle Robbins, president; Mary Jane Murray, vice president; Irma Smoot, secretary, and Judy Smith, treasurer.

Miss Leora Connors is the sponsor of the Inkpot club.

To Speak The Speech We Must Debate the Question

Learning the techniques of discussion and practicing them by public speaking are the objectives of the Forensic organization. Students enrolled in this group enter speaking and debating contests. They sponsored the Calumet Legislative Assembly and took part in the Purdue Legislative Assembly this year. The students also participated in weekly round table discussions over our own radio station, WGVE.

Officers leading the group this year were Anne Flynn, Beverly Knapp, Ted Nering, and Keith Pearman.

Mrs. Mary Frances Busby is the sponsor of this debating group.

Every day at 11:05 the Senior Drama class meets in the auditorium for the purpose of increasing knowledge in the great art of drama. Through regular class study and outside curricular activities the group learn and practice the fundamentals of play giving and play acting.

The future Tab Hunters and Kim Novaks present plays, take over production assignments, learn the fine arts of make up and costume and scenery designing.

Socially the groups often see professional plays in Chicago, participate in their own amateur productions and accumulate points toward individual dramatic accomplishments.

The president of the group was Larry Goldberg and vice president was Helene Zury. The business manager was Connie Kapsch, and student director, Dorothy Rzepka. Records of daily meetings were kept by Janice Zubrik.

Miss Beatrice Sandles is the teacher of the class and sponsor of all extra-curricular activities.

Where Are Our Seats, Please?

A club which promotes interest in all auditorium activities, and develops responsibility, cooperation, and integrity is known as Auditorium Council. It is necessary for candidates to be enrolled in auditorium and possess qualities of generosity, responsibility, loyalty and courtesy.

The members of the club ushered at all school auditorium activities and helped in ticket sales of dramatic and musical events.

Their social activities included a potluck dinner earlier in the year and a formal spring dinner in which honor students are guests.

Officers of the organization were president, Brenda Arnold; secretary, Betty Lou Emery; and John Dimos, treasurer.

Mrs. Mattie Hannsz sponsors the Auditorium Council group.

Students who attain high scholastic averages, and who excel in character, leadership and service are asked to join the Senior Honor Society. To be eligible the student must be a junior or senior and must have maintained a high degree of interest in studies and activities throughout high school.

An impressive candlelight ceremony took place this spring and new members were inducted.

Officers serving the first semester were president, Don Hannah, and secretary-treasurer, Donna Maly.

The Senior Honor Society is under the sponsorship of Mr. Bernard Shirk.

To develop good citizenship, to create enthusiasm for high scholarship, to stimulate a desire for service to our school and to our community, and to promote trustworthy leadership are some of the qualifications for membership in the Junior Honor Society.

Each year the society holds an induction ceremony for installation of new members. The principle service of new inductees is to help new students become acquainted with Lew Wallace and its traditions.

Officers elected for this year were president, Martha Melvin; Carol Golbesky, vice president; Merri Gannon, secretary; and Betsy Corns, treasurer.

The organization is guided by Miss Angela Hannagan, Mrs. Margaret Connerly, Miss Olive Waggoner, and Mrs. Florence Heffron.

Majorettes Highlight Musical Performances

A special attraction of the band is the majorettes who play an active part in parades and the half-time of our football games. Their performance at the Homecoming game was one of the highlights of the half-time ceremonies.

The girls have won outstanding recognition for their twirling abilities in many contests throughout the state.

Melody Men Bring Back 'April Antics'

Coming from room 119 can be heard thirteen male voices blending harmoniously under the direction of Miss Lorain Shaffer. These Melody Men develop, through their singing, group cooperation, leadership, and poise.

High school boys who have passed a vocal audition are admitted to the organization.

As the Melody Men's biggest project, they sponsored for the first time in several years a new version of April Antics. They also participated in the Christmas Vespers and Pageant, the Spring Concert, and the City-Wide Music Festival.

This year's officers were John Schnabel, president; Everett Fisher, vice president; Curtis Cleaver, secretary; and Walter Misora, treasurer.

Music From on High . . .

Beside having a good voice, members of the Girls' Glee Club must be equipped with a pair of very strong legs. After climbing six flights of stairs, the girls reach their destination — the fourth floor music room.

In this room the Glee Club puts in many hours of practice, under the direction of Mr. Alfred Fissinger, to attain the perfect blending of voices they displayed at the annual Vesper services, the Senior Honor Society Induction, the Spring Concert, and the Commencement services.

Officers for this year were Paula Jo Robinson, president; Jo Ann Bruce, vice president; and Judy Bahun, secretary-treasurer.

Faculty and Students Blend Voices

A Cappella Choir is a combination of faculty members and students who love to sing. Membership is open to anyone who enjoys music and who is willing to entertain at school functions. Members are taught to work as a unit through direction and cooperation.

This year the Choir sang in the Vesper Services, the Spring Concert, and in the Festival Chorus. Loretta Jeane Bower was president; and John Kozar, secretary. The Choir is under the direction of Mr. Alfred Fissinger.

Stop, Look, and Listen!

Braving rain, sleet and snow the patrol squad of Lew Wallace ushers students across busy intersections around the school. These brave and bold students volunteer their services to protect us. For their helpful and protective services these students are honored annually by the P.T.A.

They also receive recognition through an auditorium program sponsored by the Chicago Motor Club.

Mr. Everett Hartsough sponsors the Safety Patrol organization.

Behind the Scenes . . .

The handy man of the auditorium department could be the name of any one of the boys who belong to the Stage Crew. The boys put in many extra hours of work to aid us in our enjoyment of all programs, plays, and auditorium activities. They learn the techniques of lighting, scenery, and setting up the stage. They construct, paint, and improvise whenever needed. These services are supervised by Mrs. Mattie Hannsz.

The managers are Leland Cline and Ralph Richards, assisted by Tom Owens and George Lobody.

Sound Off - - - 1,2,3,4,

The mission of the high school R.O.T.C. program is primarily to lay the foundation for good citizenship by teaching the principles of leadership, respect for constituted authority, and correct habits of orderliness, courtesy, and deportment. Before a boy can strive for these military achievements he must be fourteen years of age and be registered in high school. Military training is given to the students to benefit them. It will be of some value when they are drafted into required military training.

This year's R.O.T.C. rifle team competed in the annual Hearst Trophy Match against 261 high schools in the United States and territories, and in the 5th Army Trophy Match against the R.O.T.C. Units of 13 states.

The "Ayes" Have It

With only two years of background, the Boys' Club has given the boys of Lew Wallace an organization in which they can expand their ingenuity into useful services and find a solution to their problems. A steering committee has been organized to lead the group in the various services which it performs. Each month a Welfare Committee visited students not able to attend school. At the four mass meetings the boys learned about various vocations, an effort to help them pick the one for which they are best suited.

This year the Boys' Club sponsored their first couple dance, Cupid's Corner, which was well attended by the student body.

The sponsors of the club are Mr. Virgil Krampe, Mr. Arthur Manning, and Dr. Ernest Ladd. Officers were Howard Fisher, president; Vic Schiralli, vice president; Everett Fisher, secretary-treasurer.

The boys who are enrolled in Audio-Visual are regarded as a teacher's right hand. In this department the boys learn the techniques of operating and setting up A-V equipment. Rendering help to teachers by showing educational movies is the primary purpose of the group. All of this work is done under the supervision of Mr. Paul Bowlby.

Boys enrolled in the photography classes may be found in classrooms, in the hall, at dances, or at games, but always with a camera in hand. In order to belong to the class, a student must be interested in photography and willing to work. Through the care and guidance of Mr. Paul Bowlby, students learn the art of posing subjects and taking and developing pictures.

The boys play a large part in helping the publications staff by taking all the Annual and Philosopher pictures. They also take pictures of Prom couples and group pictures of primary grades.

IN THE CONTROL ROOM there are many important operations which require technical skill and efficiency. Here Dean Baboo controls the program level while Jim Baker adjusts the tape recorder.

Behind a closed door and an "On the Air" sign, students work on Lew Wallace's radio station, W.G.V.E. Broadcasts consist of taped programs of an educational nature for use in classrooms and the best in classical music.

In order to belong to the broadcasting staff, students must be interested in obtaining a radio operator's license and in getting practical experience in the problems of running a radio station. Students utilize this station daily as part of their educational course.

Engineer Dean Baboo helps the staff collect radio material for programs. The radio programs are under the capable direction of Mr. Paul Bowlby.

JIM KINDLER listens and watches attentively as Dean Baboo instructs him on the operation of the studio turntable.

Lots of work and little pay — Busy, busy, busy day.

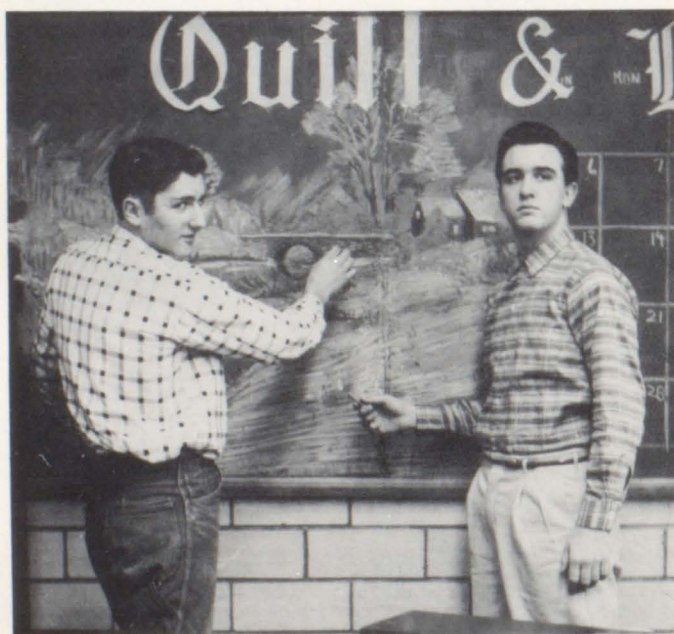

Busy day — and night, as the case may be. Such is the cliché of the Philosopher staff in 214M. The struggle of man vs. deadline is a daily one, and a staff of forty-two students fought the good fight this year to bring us sixteen Philosophers.

The eternal question of the editors, Irma Smoot, Janet Myers, Phyllis Komisarck, and Annette Pozonovich was "Isn't there any news in this school? Something must be happening!" As usual, something is always happening. Thus the task of digging it up befalls the staff reporters.

The Daily Bulletin editors Janet Huettnner and Jean Bolkovatz, and News Board editor Joe Haro had a daily task — to keep the school news up to date.

Money, money, money. So much of it passing through Room 214M everyday, and yet will there be enough? The staff isn't really mercenary, but the threat of being chased by the bill collectors continuously hangs over their little round heads. This brings on stag dances and other projects.

The Senior Edition, calling cards and invitations — these, too, are duties of the Philosopher staff.

At last! The day of Annual distribution has arrived. The finished book is a product of — to quote a famous man — "blood, sweat, and tears."

The pages of your book began as an idea, a dream, in the thoughts of the editor. These ideas were transferred to paper and film, and thus the pieces of the puzzle fell into orderly, printed pages.

Editor Miriam Melvin has trained her thoughts on the presentation of an annual which will recall to the students of old Lew Wallace, the memories that they want most to remember. Many evenings in 214M have been spent toward this goal.

Picture Day is the biggest single event involved in putting out an annual. This helps to finance our book, and we are indebted to Indiana School Pictures for the class pictures.

Perfection, at least as much as possible, is the goal of the annual workers. Club picture editor, faculty editor, copy editors, and typists all work for a common goal — the best annual of all!

Deadlines are to be met, and everyone breathes a sigh of relief when the first section goes to the printers. This golden moment is short-lived with the realization that the victory is not yet won — back to the grind again!

Now the goal has been reached. Your Annual lies in your hands as a symbol of the wonderful year which has just passed. The Quill and Blade staff hopes that you will enjoy your book, and that it will bring many happy memories.

Sports

There are opportunities to develop skills, to build strong bodies, and to learn the rules of good sportsmanship in our school. We learn that there is give and take in all sports. We discover that the fan has certain obligations to the team, and the team has certain obligations to the fan. We learn that good sportsmanship means winning and losing. The sports activities of our school help us to live clean, healthy lives and to develop good moral attitudes.

The 1956 Varsity football team under the leadership of Coach Polly and Coach Black broke even this season, winning four of eight games. The squad finished third in the city race and ranked third in W-NIHSC. The biggest thrill of the season was the defeat of the Rough Riders of East Chicago Roosevelt 12 to 6. High scorer for the year was Philip Lobsinger who made thirty points. Two members of the Hornet squad awarded positions on the all-city team were Don Hannah and Philip Lobsinger.

Reserves Make a Good Record

The Wallace football reserves had an exceptionally fine season in '56. Under the leadership of Coach Black, and with an earnest desire to win, the gridiron gamblers finished the season with five wins, a tough loss to the Calumet Township varsity, and one tie against Gary Roosevelt. We are looking forward to a state title some year.

The Fighting Frosh

The Freshman team wound up at the end of a fine season with a record of five wins and four losses. The boys gained much in experience from this season and also received a taste of the rough game by taking on such big teams as Roosevelt, Froebel, and East Chicago Roosevelt.

MIKE RUKAVINA and Stan Saliwonzcyk see to it that Tolleston nets only a few yards as they try to get through the center of the line.

SMILING THROUGH her happy tears, 1956 Homecoming Queen Jackie Mattingly is escorted from the field by Bob Bracich and Jim Hart.

SALIWONCZYK AND RUKAVINA are again stopping up a hole. Both Stan and Mike proved a great help on both offense and defense.

DON HANNAH and Dave Walker are about to stop another Tolleston threat. Hannah led the team this year as quarterback. Walker, a junior, proved to be a real pile-driver as fullback.

Third Time's a Charm

Weather-wise, candidate-wise, and queen-wise, the 1956 Homecoming celebrations were most successful.

We had been told that troubles come in three's, so from the beginning to the end of the celebrations, we expected to see big, black clouds in the sky. Fortunately, not a single drop fell, and for the first time in two years, we experienced a rainless Homecoming.

The Homecoming spirit was ignited with nominations by homerooms and the football team for the queen. The candidates were Donna Jansen, Jackie Mattingly, Rochelle Robbins, Irma Smoot, and Eleanor Stark.

Spirits rose higher at the pep rally held October 17 at the Junedale Little League field. The candidates for Queen and the football players were introduced to the capacity crowd. A touch of humor prevailed at the rally as the car in which the candidates were riding failed to start and had to be pushed off the field by the football players.

The climax to the celebrations came at the game, which was played against Tolleston. There was a display of pageantry during the half-time ceremonies as the candidates, dressed in formals, rode around the field in brand new convertibles. The girls were then escorted to the 50 yard line, and the senior class president, Jim Hart, crowned Jackie Mattingly as Homecoming Queen. She was presented with a piece of luggage and her court received personalized compacts. As a finishing touch to an exciting evening, the Hornets defeated Tolleston 21 to 6.

Jackie and members of her court reigned over the final Homecoming event, the Victory Dance. They gave it a regal atmosphere that we will remember for a long time.

Homecoming Queen: Jackie Mattingly.

Homecoming Court: Eleanor Stark, Rochelle Robbins, Donna Jansen, and Irma Smoot.

A Well Experienced Team . . .

Ed Stark, Bob Erdelac.

Consisting chiefly of lettermen from the preceding year and a few newcomers who show great hopes for the future swimming squad, this year's mermen had a fair season in the conference meets. Bob Erde'ac, Dale Sanchez, Gabe Rodenas and Ken Boehlke formed the 160 yard free style relay team which finished first in all swimming competitions with an average 1:25.6 time. John Skoro showed his skill in the back-stroke by acquiring first place in all but a few meets. Because of graduation the team will be minus Dale Sanchez, a diver who placed sixth in the State Championship last year.

The mermen participated in all conference and state championship meets and completed the events with a fair average.

Dale Sanchez, Ken Boehlke.

Ron Sheridan, Bob Holt, John Skoro.

Under the leadership of Coach Polk, our 1956 Hornet Harriers won four, and lost four meets. We placed fourth in the city, fourteenth in conference, and eleventh in the sectionals.

Wallace Cindermen Have a Good Season

The 1957 Wallace Cindermen ran against Hammond in their first indoor meet of the season. The City and Conference meets constituted the complete indoor schedule. We started our outdoor meets by running against Emerson. Coach Black and Coach Polk led the boys through the sixteen meets.

Hardwood Action

The Lew Wallace Hornets opened the season under the fine coaching of Vern Charlson. Coach Dom Polizotto took over the job of head basketball coach, though, after Coach Charlson was appointed to another job by the Board of Education. Coach Polly took up where Coach Charlson left off, worked with the boys, and developed them into a fine offensive team.

The Hornets showed superior playing ability and were respected by all as a fine team.

The team came out victorious against such teams as East Chicago Washington, Hobart, and Emerson. They faced opponents such as Crispus Attucks, East Chicago Roosevelt, and South Bend Adams.

Little in Experience - Big in Spirit

2nd Row: J. Schenher, Mgr., P. Magdich, J. Lough, A. Milteer, F. Krynski, S. Piet, J. Lahart, Coach Richard Polk.

Although the 56-57 Reserve Basketball team under Coach Polk started the first half of the season with just one victory, they put up a good fight against all opposing teams.

Frosh Made a Good Showing

1st Row: (left to right) T. Magnetti, N. Chabreja, D. Tarpo, D. DeBonis, G. Bolde, D. Johnson, Mgr.

2nd Row: A. Pinkowski, P. Flores, D. Mudrich, B. Antich, M. Nastoff, N. Radulovich.

3rd Row: C. Cleaver, F. Seibel, T. Bishop, W. Tucker, M. Mark, Coach Lawrence Martin.

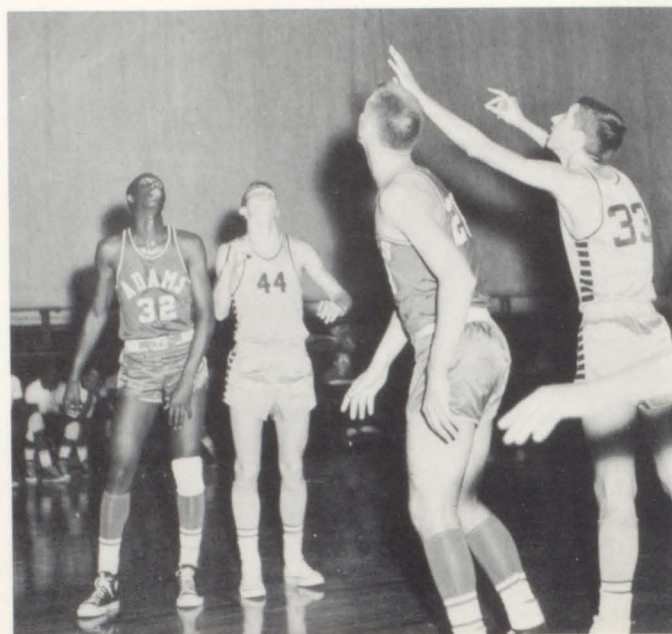

Under the direction of Coach Martin the Freshman Basketball team made a good showing in the 1956-57 season even though they were lacking in experience.

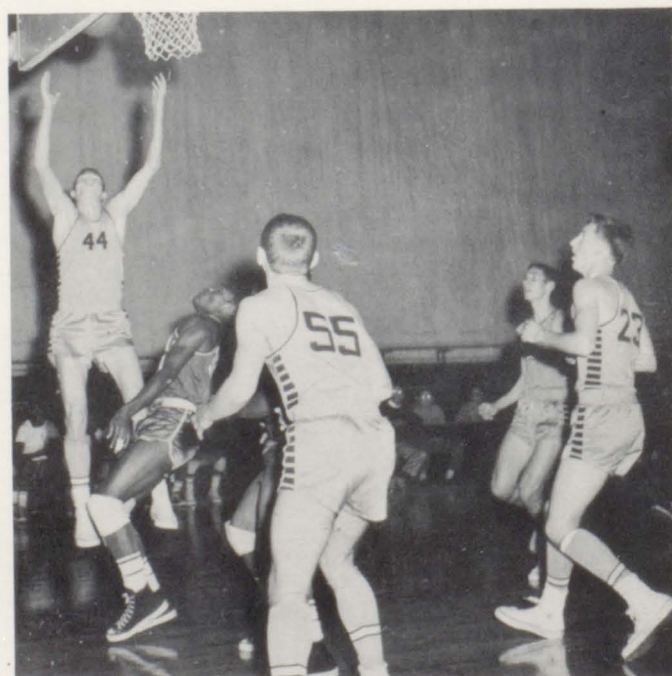

GETTING THE REBOUND was the assignment for Dennis Sofiak and Dick Clark. Both boys were really on their toes this season in the rebounding and field goal department.

A NEAT TAP by Steve Kukoy netted Wallace two points during the Adams game. Even though Steve lacks the experience he should be very important to next year's ball club.

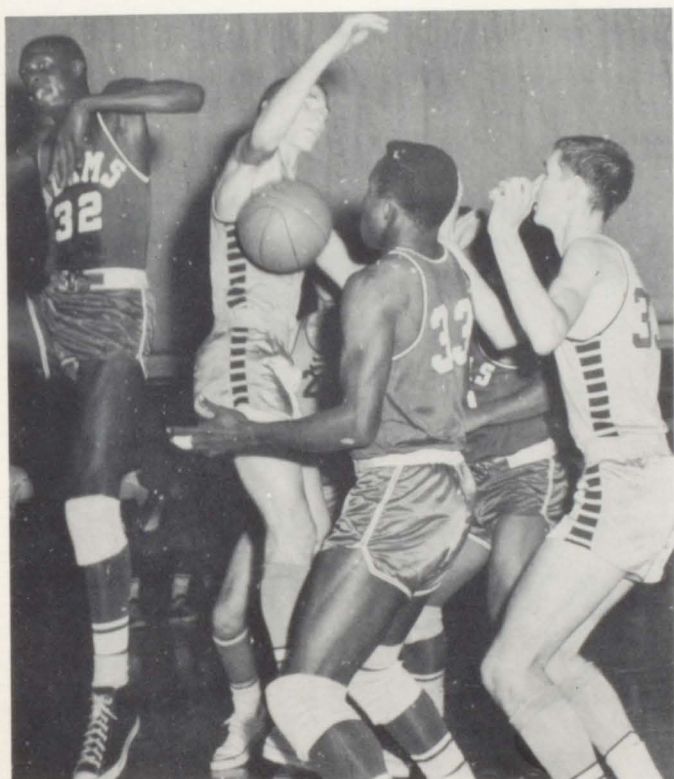

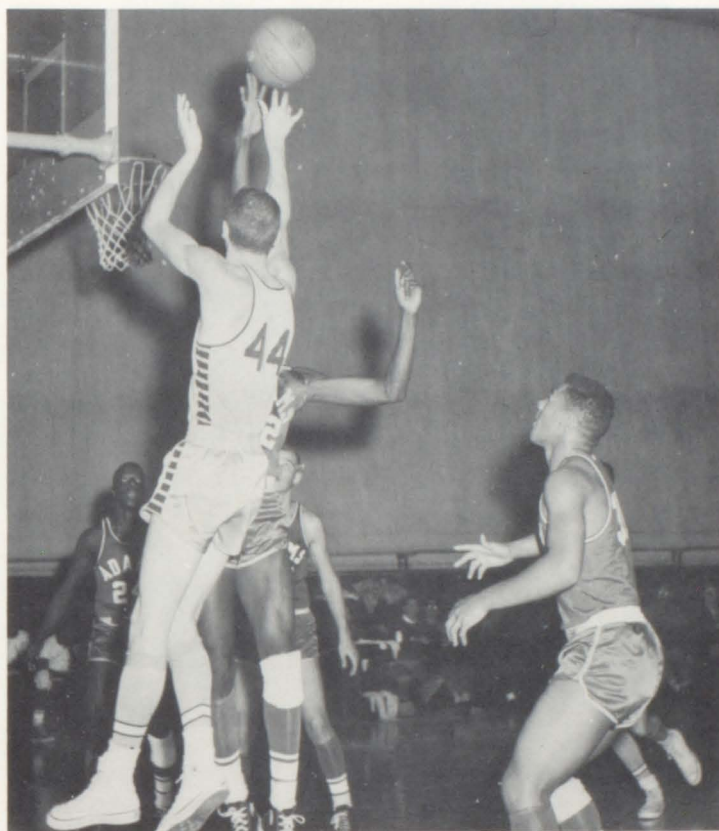

DICK CLARK jumps for a rebound while Bob Basin and Bill McDonald look on. All three will be returning lettermen next year, and should help the team during the season and sectional play.

ALMOST BLOCKED, Dick Clark pumps in another of his jump shots. Dick was a high point man this season.

FIGHTING FOR A REBOUND are Dick Clark, Dennis Sofiak and an unidentified Adams player. This plus many others during the season helped Wallace to many of its victories.

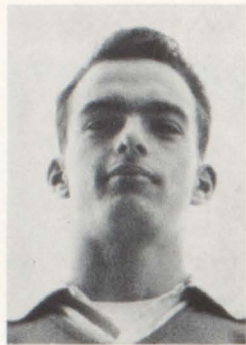

BOB HORAN calls for a pass, which turned out to be a successful maneuver during the game. Bob, for playing first year varsity proved to be a very big help to the team's record.

Take Me Out To The Big Field . . .

Coach Polizotto

The loyal Wallace fans have made baseball another major sports event on the campus. The boys had a rough schedule this year but upheld the proud tradition of former Hornet teams.

The Moral is - Morale

Come on team, let's go! This constant thought in the minds of the cheerleaders, is backed by their continual efforts to keep the crowds cheering at the games. Winning or losing, these girls loyally back our team, never losing confidence in the boys' ability. With their fighting spirit they cannot help but instill in the crowd and the team an energy and spirit which illustrates the fine sportsmanship and school spirit of Lew Wallace.

The cheerleaders are under the sponsorship and training of Miss Angela Hannagan.

"Turnabout is fair play," say the members of the Girls' Athletic Association.

The association offers girls an opportunity to enter the sports world usually conceded to boys. The girls may develop their skills by participating in such sports as swimming, basketball, volleyball, and baseball.

The promotion of good sportsmanship is one of the main purposes of the G.A.A. To accomplish this, the association holds sportsday programs with other schools. Teams are also formed within the association and tournaments are held between teams.

Social activities as well as sports are important in G.A.A. The annual initiation ceremonies are well known around school. Other events are the Christmas potluck, the G.A.A. banquet, a beach party, and matinee dances.

Officers for this year were Carol Berns, president; Darlene Sendre, vice president; Judy Zander, secretary; and Pat Coady, treasurer.

Miss Mary Sharp sponsors the association.

People

On these pages are our friends, our teachers, and our administrators, the people we shall never forget. They are always willing to offer their help, whether it be for homework or to help us solve an emotional, or a social problem. In helping us grow, they have helped us to live and learn.

They are sensitive to our changing moods. They know when silence soothes, and when laughter is the best medicine.

With them we have argued, agreed, cried, and laughed. Some of their characteristics have become a definite part of us. They are important pieces in the puzzle of our school life and we love them.

Many Help Pave

Assistant Principal, VIRGIL KRAMPE
and Principal, FLOYD ASHER.

To the administrative groups pictured on this page, we wish to express our appreciation for the opportunity they have given us to live and learn.

Always willing to cope with our problems, Mr. Asher, our principal, and Mr. Krampe, assistant principal, are to be praised for the excellent guidance that they have given us. We are deeply indebted to them.

Our new superintendent and his assistants are striving to give us opportunities for a better education. They, with the Board of Education, give us great hopes for the future.

Superintendent, DR. ALDEN H. BLANKENSHIP and Assistant Superintendent, DR. HAROLD KAISER.

New Class, New Faces, New Ideas

This year, Wallace opened its doors to the largest freshman class in its history. They started the year by electing as their officers Tom Magnetti, president; Diane Novosel, vice president; Eleanor Buzuvis, secretary; and Jo Ann Hadberg, treasurer.

At the first class meeting the Student Council presented a program depicting high school life and its extracurricular activities.

The busiest week of all was Freshman Week, sponsored by the Girls' Club. During this week, girls became Big and Little Sisters and attended the Sock Dance.

The next big affair on the calendar was the Freshman Dance. This was a big success. Another big event for the Freshmen was the presentation of their play, THE NIGHT OF JANUARY 16th.

As the year draws to a close, we find these Freshmen looking not backward, but forward to the three wonderful years that lie ahead.

THE FRESHMAN PLAY CAST is caught at an interval in one of the many practices which helped make THE NIGHT OF JANUARY 16th a success.

Martha Melvin, secretary; Sue Renner, treasurer; Judy Perrotta, vice president; and Charles Yelusich, president.

Work, Work, And More Work

The selections of Charles Yelusich as president, Judy Perrotta as vice president, Martha Melvin as secretary and Sue Renner as treasurer started the sophomore year just right for the class of '59.

Planning and preparation made the sophomore dance, MARDI GRAS, a festive occasion. A gala time was had by all.

Many meetings were held between members of the ring committee, sponsors, and representatives from various companies before a choice satisfactory to the majority of the class was reached. The day the sophomores ordered their class rings was certainly an exciting one.

They became interested in finding out everything they could about themselves as they wrote their autobiographies. They also read SILAS MARNER and proved geometry theorems.

Their sophomore year was a busy and difficult one. They displayed competence, reliability, and sound judgment, which made it possible for them to overcome obstacles and go on to the second half of their high school years.

In Memoriam

RICHARD DUMENRIC

Death stands above me, whispering low
 I know not what into my ear:

Of his strange language all I know
 Is, there is not a word of fear.

—Walter Savage Landor

Dennis Sofiak, president; Paul Jenkins, vice president; Ken Rose, treasurer; and Preston Figge, secretary.

Upperclassmen At Last

With only one more year to go, the class of 1958 decided to give the boys the responsibility of leading them through their first year as upperclassmen. They chose Dennis Sofiak, Paul Jenkins, Preston Figge, and Ken Rose as president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer.

Classroom headaches were caused by the reading of GIANTS IN THE EARTH and that most dreaded assignment of all — the term topic.

An important day in the eyes of all juniors is the day of the distribution of their class rings, and this year's class was no exception.

The most anticipated social event of their year was the Prom. On April 26, as they danced to the music of Mickey Isley's band, they decided that their hard work and planning had been well worth the effort.

With these pleasant memories behind them, the juniors are now looking forward to the last but best year of all — their senior year.

CUPID REIGNS as couples enjoy themselves at the first Boys' Club semi-formal dance, CUPID'S CORNER.

Wallace Tops State With $3700.69

THE SIGN ON the truck spoke for itself as the truck drove around distributing peanuts and people for the Teenage Polio Drive on January 19.

CAROLE SHEARER PINS an arm band on Barbara Coffman as they both get off to an early start in the Polio Drive.

HOWARD FISHER, CO-CHAIRMAN of the Lew Wallace Polio Committee is accompanied by a policeman as he picks up some of the money that came to a total of $3,700.69.

EVEN THOUGH THE WEATHER was chilly, Anice Odum and Bonnie Armes kept busy selling peanuts to the people shopping in Glen Park.

Ken Locke, vice president; Nora Oren, secretary; Jim Hart, president; and Judy Bahun, treasurer.

High School Days Draw To A Close

The class of 1957 started its freshman year by electing Don Hannah, president; Jay Moore, vice president; Jackie Mattingly, secretary; and Carolyn Dawson, treasurer. The freshman play, CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN, was labeled the best ever, and our dance, SPRING FANTASY, was enjoyed by all who attended.

Our sophomore year began in a whirl of geometry, SILAS MARNER and autobiographies. Under the capable leadership of Howard Fisher, president; Irma Smoot, vice president; Don Hannah, secretary; and Judy Smith, treasurer, the class of '57 moved closer to our goal. We celebrated the completion of our second year in high school by taking part in the sophomore dance, BOOGIE BOUNCE.

As juniors, we chose as our officers, Rich Bianco, president; Rochelle Robbins, vice president; Janet Myers, secretary; and Carolyn Dawson, treasurer. These officers assumed the responsibility of planning the Prom. By working with other members of our class and members of the senior class, they helped make the Prom a huge success.

Among our fondest memories as seniors will be those of the Washington Trip: memories of being stranded on the Chesapeake Bay, climbing to the top of the Washington Monument and having three meals of ham in a row.

During Homecoming celebrations, Jackie Mattingly was chosen as our Homecoming Queen and reigned with her attendants and court over the festivities.

Our senior class meetings and the Senior Reception made us realize how little time remained. We ordered calling cards and invitations, told the office staff how we wanted our names on our diplomas and were measured for caps and gowns. Now graduation day is almost here. As we walk across the stage to the strains of Pomp and Circumstance, we will realize that we have come to the end of our high school days and the beginning of life in an adult world. Our years in high school have provided us with many opportunities to live and learn.
